STEPPING UP

I Robot, Not!

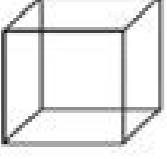

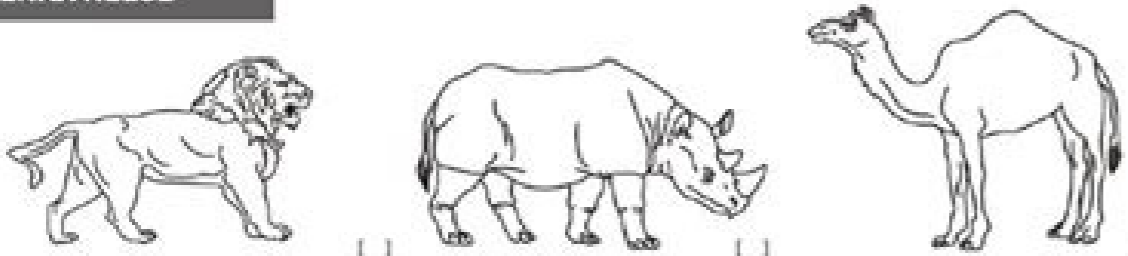

It is important to understand the difference between a robot and a human. A robot is a machine that can be programmed to perform specific tasks. It is not capable of feeling, thinking, or making decisions on its own. A human, on the other hand, is a living being with the ability to feel, think, and make decisions. Humans are also capable of learning from experience and adapting to new situations.

In This Issue

- 1. The difference between a robot and a human
- 2. The importance of understanding the difference between a robot and a human
- 3. The benefits of understanding the difference between a robot and a human
- 4. The challenges of understanding the difference between a robot and a human
- 5. The future of understanding the difference between a robot and a human

At the end of each dialogue, a third person raises a question (the question does not appear on the screen/test paper), and it is necessary to select the best answer from the three response options presented on the screen/test paper. 2. Reading section HSK 3 Reading Try your skills of understanding Chinese reading. This section lasts 30 minutes and contains 30 questions in total. There are 3 types of questions: couples sentences, fill the empty spaces and multiple choice. We explain each of them below. Copy the sentences you will meet 10 dialogues, each consisting of 2 sentences in unbeatable order. It is necessary to find the correlation between the sentences, mate and reconstruct the dialogues. Filling the voids there are 10 test elements. Each article consists of one or two sentences with a missing word. You will give you a list of word options and the need to select the best word to fill the void. Multiple choice you will read 10 very short passages, each accompanied by 1 question that asks you a specific question about the content. It is necessary to select the best answer from the three response options provided. 3. Writing section The latest section of HSK 3 is writing. It is the most short section of HSK 3 which takes only 15 minutes to complete. Write test your ability to use correct grammar, and write characters. This section consists of two parts: organize the order of words and fill the voids. Overall there are 10 tasks. Let's explain what they mean below. Order Word order there are 5 tasks. In every task, there are some words in immolated order, and is required to put the words in the correct order to build a complete phrase. Filling the voids The second part also contains 5 tasks. Each task comes with a phrase with a missing character. You will have to write the character Based on the Pinyin provided to fill the void. How it goes HSK 3 score calculated? Each section of the HSK 3 test is evaluated on 100 points and therefore combined for a score of 300. In other words, the maximum score you can get on the HSK 3 is 300. You will receive the scores of the sections and overall scores in the ratio of Score on the HSK website about 2 weeks after carrying out the official test (or a month if you perform the paper based on paper). Depending on the overall score, you pass or fail the test. To pass the HSK 3, you need to reach the overall passage score: 180. How much does it cost to take the official HSK 3 test? The HSK 3 test commissions will depend on the position of the test center. Having said that, you can generally expect to pay about 50 USDs every time you take the test. (The price to take HSK 3 in China is 350 CNY) Make sure you are ready for the official HSK 3 by taking our free sample tests! It is time to finally put hard work on the test!
